WINCHESTER.

The Star said Highland Avenue is to be built at once.

The new hundred dollar watering trough which has just been placed in position Cambridge st. fills a long felt want.

Mr. S. F. Cady's gallies are every day. Everyone who gets his decline here will get a good fellow and a good doctor.

Dr. Harry Jordan is once more at work in Winchester. He looks as if the medical profession and western life had both agree with him.

Mr. F. H. Nourse, the Boston-Winchester real estate dealer and insurance agent, thinks it would be waste time springing. The people are not afraid to trust him.

The micreants who deface or tear do the handsome street signs which our Selectmen took pains to have made last year should be severely dealt with.

It is a pity that the Library can be used only a single hour in the evening. May we please prefer the hour from 8 to 9, but 7 o'clock to 8 o'clock?

I would respectfully suggest that one alarm whistle instead of two or three would be less confusing to the average person not accustomed to them than three whistles.

By the removal of Mr. P. G. Gray, Winchester loses an esteemed and valued citizen. His many friends sympathize with him in the misfortune which compels a change of residence.

The portion lying to the north of Mystic Pond, on Everett ave. and Bacon st., promises to share in the general growth of the city. It will grow before the Mystic will soon be needed.

The Grand Opera House Starch Light affords a familiar sight to our citizens there ever since it was first put up. It has now been so close that it can translate the flashes into Mr. Julian's predictions of tomorrow's weather.

Hon. A. B. Coffin is kept busy as usual defending the Boston Gas Companies.

Another fine lot of land, containing 10 acres and given a great many heavy and important cases to handle. And better than the lot owned by Capt. J. W. Smith, a prominent state the rest of his natural life.

At the 3d. edition of the Annual Meeting held on Monday evening a dose of soothing syrup was administered to E. Street Commissioner, Col. Nat. Richardson, and several other members of the board of selectmen.

A gentleman named Wentworth recently completed a house on the land formerly owned by Mr. Peabody between Wildwood st. and Winter Pond. He proposes to make of this one of the finest estates in town, and will lay out at least 500,000 dollars.

Our florists Twombly and Newman, both having large stores in Boston, get a good share of the patronage of the aristocratic class of the city. Their greenhouses, near Wildwood and Central streets, contain very extensive and contain the greater variety of flowers and ornamental plants.

More attention should be given to preventing the loss of water from the reservoirs in the vicinity of our reservoirs are burned over every year, the result will be poor crops of corn or none at all. If the forest growth in the valley is very desirable and the town should take measures to prevent its destruction.

The pedestrian who is familiar with our landmarks will find it difficult to find the market of the summit of Turkey Hill. There looked down on the British grandeur on their way to Concord 118 years ago late Wednesday. It had been dead many years and finally succumbed to the terrible and long to be remembered tempest of June 19, 1864.

The two oldest persons in town I believe are Mr. Samuel Smith, who will be 95 in May, and Mrs. Lucetta Hutchinson, a few years younger. The former had the misfortune to lose her husband some twenty years ago and has been confined to his bed or chair ever since. His general health is failing, but he remains a good, showing no sign of mental decay. Mrs. Smith's health is fully as good as could be expected in one of so great age.

At the meeting of the Board of Selectmen held Monday night the following appointments of town officers for the ensuing year were made: Police, J. W. Richardson; Lock-up Keeper, J. W. Richardson; Auctioneers, H. A. Emerson, F. H. Nourse, E. Byrne, Robert Leonard, N. A. Richardson; Surveyors, J. W. Richardson, George E. Pratt; Surveyors of Bark and Lumber, George W. Blanchard, Henry A. Emerson, Charles E. Kendall; Weighers, Charles E. Kendall; Public Weighers, J. Gutterson, H. A. Emerson; Engineers of Fire Department, Fred M. Symmes, Timothy J. O'Brien, John R. B. Field; Drivers, Robert C. Whitten, Marshall C. Bouve, Henry C. Holt. Forrest C. Marchant appointed Town Counsel for the next year.

Those who suppose that the nauseating odors which threaten to make emanate from Montvale, do that village

it. Pretty soon an appeal to the

The Columbian Festival.

The arrangements for the great Columbian Musical Festival to be given at Mechanics Hall, Boston, on May 4, 5, 6 and 7, promises an event of remarkable interest. To the music lovers of New England. The general musical direction blessed."

Funeral services were conducted by Mr. Gra-

Attention

In time to any irregularity of the Stomach, Liver, or Bowels may prevent serious consequences.

Indigestion,
constipation,
headache, nausea, biliousness, and vertigo indicate certain functional derangements, the best remedy for which is Ayer's Pills. Purely vegetable, sugar-coated, easy to take and quick to assimilate, this is the ideal family medicine—the most popular, safe, and useful aperient in pharmacy. Mrs. M. A. BROCKWELL, Harris, Tenn., says:

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills cured me of sick headache and my husband of neuralgia. We think there is

No Better Medicine,
and have induced many to use it.

"Thirty-five years ago this Spring, I was run down by hard work and a succession of colds, which made me so feeble that it was an effort for me to walk. I consulted doctors, but kept sinking lower until I had given up all hope of ever being better.
Happening to be in a store, one day, where medicines were sold, the proprietor noticed my weak and sickly appearance, and, after a few questions as to my health, recommended me to try Ayer's Pills. I had little faith in these or any other medicine, but convinced, at last, I bought a box. Before I used them all, I was very much better, and two boxes cured me. I am now 80 years old, but I believe that if it had not been for Ayer's Pills, I should have been in my grave long ago. I buy 6 boxes every year, which make 210 boxes up to this time, and I would not have been out of them without benefit."—H. H. Ingraham, Rockland, Me.

Every Dose Effective

A Dancer With a Rubber Foot.
"It is surprising how nicely a man can walk with a rubber foot," remarked a traveling man at the Lacleda, around whom a group of listeners were sitting. "I attended a ball last week in a town in Illinois and was introduced to a gentleman from Ohio, who had for a partner the prettiest lady in the ballroom. During the evening I had occasion to notice this couple, who were conceded to be the most graceful dancers in the hall. In all round dances they were partners, and the most intricate figures were executed with a charming ease and grace, which I never saw except they be teachers of the poetry of motion."

"Next day, after I had waited upon my customers and gone to the hotel,
I came my friend of the night before, walking on a pair of crutches and one leg off at the knee joint. I was surprised and remarked, 'You certainly are not the gentleman I met last night at the ball?' 'Most assuredly I am, but after dancing all the evening my leg becomes weary,
and to give it a rest I leave my rubber foot at home the next day. I can feel the sensation now as if my toes were cramped by a pair of tight shoes. Otherwise I feel no inconvenience in the loss of my lower limb.'—St. Louis Republic.

A Popular Man in Greece.

If you are not a politician in Greece,
you must be a hero. But it is better to be a hero. You have nothing to do. You promise with a certain sincerity to die for your country. That gives you the right while waiting to revel in the pleasure of living and doing nothing. Heroic men are men who despise bluebooks and reports,
who smoke and consume small quantities of raki and are unacquainted with the official stiffness of diplomacy. They shake hands readily, joke with everybody and call their neighbor "brother." This is the type of man who is popular in Greece.
This is the old Palicare of heroic times.—Westminster Review.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON V, SECOND QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, APRIL 30.

Text of the Lesson, Prov. i, 20-33—Memory Verses, 20-23—Golden Text, Heb.
xii, 25—Commentary by the Rev. D. M.
Stearns.

20. "Wisdom crieth without; she uttereth her voice in the streets." When we read in the New Testament such words as these,
"Christ, the wisdom of God," "Who of God is made unto us wisdom" (1 Cor. i, 24, 30), we have no difficulty in understanding what is meant in this book by wisdom. Just as Jesus Christ is both the living personal word and also the written word, so He is wisdom as to His person and as to His utterances. It is no wonder, then, that it is written, "Wisdom is the principal thing;
therefore get wisdom" (iv, 7).

21. "She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates. In the city she uttereth her words, saying, 'I shall also reap,' and their only thought is pleasure and prosperity here and now (Mat. vi, 13; Gal. vi, 7). Wisdom is represented as calling upon them as they hurry along their downward road."

22. "How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity, and fools take knowledge?"
Simple ones, if they believe the devil, are easily led astray. If they believe God, they are easily led aright. If they go astray, they are soon among the scorners and the fools. Yet wisdom loves them and cries unto them: "How long?" "How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?"

23. "How long will thou refuse to humble thyself before Me?" (Jer. iv, 14; Ex. x, 3).
"Turn you at My reproof; behold I will pour out My Spirit unto you; I will make known My words unto you." He calls so lovingly, so patiently, so perseveringly
"Come unto Me; return unto the Lord, turn, O backsliding children; take with you words and turn to the Lord." These are some of the many words of the Lord to the erring ones as He entreats them to come unto Him (Isa. lv, 3, 7; Jer. li, 1, 7; 12, 14; Hos. xiv, 2). He only asks us to turn to Him, and He will do all the rest, giving His words and His Spirit. His words which are Spirit and Life (John vi, 63).

24. "Because I have called, and ye refused,
I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded." It does not seem possible that people who had been so wondrously dealt with could so soon turn away from Him whose heart is still the same, and the same love on His part is turned away from by those to whom His hands are imploringly stretched out. How is it with you?

25. "But ye have set at naught My counsel, and would none of My reproof." They mocked the messengers of God, and despised His words, and misused His prophecies until the wrath of the Lord arose against His people, till there was no remedy (1 Chron. xxvii, 10). They even went so far as to say, "We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement; we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves" (Isa. xlviii, 15). Like the men before the Lord, whose houses God filled with good things, they said unto God, "Depart from us, what can the Almighty do for us?"

26. "I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh." What sover a man saith, that shall be also reap, and he that soweth the wind shall reap the whirlwind" (Gal. vi, 7; Hos. viii, 7).
Concerning all who take counsel
with death, and with hell are we at agreement, the Lord shall have them in derision" (Ps. li, 4), and if His loving invitations are persistently despised, we must remember His words,
"None of those men which were hidden shall taste of My supper" (Luke xiv, 24).

27. "When your fear cometh as desolation and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind, when distress and anguish cometh upon you." In due time these things will come upon all who despise His words, and make light of His salvation. Because there is wrath, beware lest He take thee away with His stroke; then a great ransom cannot deliver thee (Job xxxvi, 18).

28. "Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me." Then shall they cry unto the Lord, but He will not hear them; He will even hide His face from that time, as they behaved themselves ill in their iniquities (Mic. iii, 4). He told Jeremiah that the intercession of Moses and Samuel could not save the nation, and
He told Ezekiel that the presence of Noah, Daniel and Job would be of no avail (Jer. xv, 1; Ezek. xiv, 14, 20). Sin may become so great that nothing will do but judgment.

29. "For that they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the Lord." They saw unto God, Depart from us, for we desire not the knowledge of Thy ways (Job xli, 14).
The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, a foundation of life, a great treasure (Prov. i, 7; ix, 10; xiv, 27; Isa. xxxiii, 6).
But they had no reverence for God, no respect for His ways, no gratitude for His gifts. The fool says there is no God, and many a one who would not say this wishes that there was no God. The carnal mind is enmity against God (Rom. vii, 5).

30. "They would none of My counsel; they despised all My reproof." Our Lord Jesus will come and condemn His words, but did them not, was like a man building on sand, only to have everything swept away (Math. vi, 26, 27).

31. "Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices." Their own wickedness will correct them and their backslidings reprove them. Hear, O earth, behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto My words (Jer. li, 19, vi, 29). If people will not receive the truth,
God will let them receive delusion and a lie
(1 Thess. ii, 10-12). He simply lets them have their own way, with its consequences,
if they insist on having it.

32. "For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them." To turn away from God is to turn one's back on the only source of love and light. It is to choose darkness rather than light (John iii, 19).
33. "But whose hearkeneth unto Me shall dwell safely and shall be quiet from fear of evil. What a wonderful salvation our wonderful Lord has provided for His enemies if they will only turn to Him in true penitence. Life, eternal life, abundant pardon, forgiveness of all sins, with the assurance of there being no more repenting, an inheritance incorruptible, a joint heirship with Jesus Christ, with the promise of all things temporal and spiritual that we can possibly need."

HIS AFFIDAVIT.

It Will Make People Believe
His Wonderful Story.

Subscribed to by One of New York's Most Prominent Justices.

HERE IS THE WHOLE MATTER EXACTLY AS IT HAPPENED.

State of New York,) ss.
County of Washington,)

Lucien Rodd of Whitehall, N. Y., being by me duly sworn, deposes and says that some years ago he suffered very greatly with nervous prostration and his body was covered with sores, causing him great pain and annoyance. That his head was so covered with sores that he was hardly able to comb or even brush his hair, so great was the pain it occasioned.

That he consulted the local physicians without successful result; that he took quantities of medicine with no benefit whatever; that physicians told him his disease was incurable and he had to come to the same conclusion himself and had made up his mind to go to a hospital and await death.

That just about this time he learned about Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, which he began to use.
That this remedy entirely relieved and cured him, healed and dried up his sores, enabled him to sleep soundly and comfortably, and restored him to his ordinary vigor and vitality, in short, made a sound and well man of him so that he was fully able to work at his occupation, and has done so since that time.

That he attributes his recovery to Dr.
Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy,
as it restored him when everybody else
thought he was lost.

MR. LUCIEN RODD.

everything else had failed and he had been given over to go to the hospital and die.

Mr. Rodd makes this statement voluntarily and cheerfully out of sincere gratitude for what the remedy has wrought for him.

Subscribed and sworn before me this 15th day of January, A. D. 1893, and I certify the affiant to be a credible and reliable person whose statements may be accepted with confidence and implicitly relied upon, having known him personally for the last twenty-five years, and that I have no interest, direct or indirect, immediate or Nervous Prostration.

A large manufacturer, whose affairs were very much embarrassed, and who was overworked and broken down with nervous exhaustion, went to a celebrated specialist.
He was told that the only thing needed was to be relieved of worry, and to have a change of thought. This doctor was more considerate of his patient's health than of his financial circumstances. He ought to have advised him to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, the best remedy for nervous prostration, sleeplessness, dizenness, headache, ill effects of spirits, tobacco, coffee, opium, etc. Thousands testify to cures. Book and trial bottle free at the only sure way to avoid sudden death."

tell it from his face." "So can I; one

A Mistake.

Of "Dumas le savant" a good story is told. Nothing annoyed the great chemist so much as being mistaken for the novelist. On one occasion a lion hunting English lady, after praising him in the most effusive language, and observing that she knew every line of his writings, from
"Monte Cristo" to "Mousquetaires," added, "I hope you will allow me to send you a card for my next notice."
"Madam, I am in no way connected with the writer you allude to,"
said the savant, with a cold disdain that no assinine, snub proof coat of claimed the bewildered lady.—Mrs.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Shakespeare's always fascinating love story, "Romeo and Juliet," will be given an elaborate production at the Grand Opera House, Boston, next week. It will be a twice note worthy event for it will present to the public Boston's favorite artist, Miss Annie Clarke, as Romeo, and will bring into professional life Miss Maud Hoffman as Juliet. With such environments the production is sure of enthusiastic welcome. The play will be handsomely mounted and presented on the same high standard already established by the management when it has put on its own plays with its own company.

THE BOSTON.

As presented by Modjeska, supported by Otis Skinner, "Henry VIII" has had a fine run at the Boston this week. This and tomorrow evening's and Saturday's matinee will be its last presentation for the season. On Sunday evening will be given Fred Parkes' comedy, and on Monday evening, May 8, "The Span of Life" will begin a season.

THE HOLLES.

Last Monday evening "Aristocracy" entered on its second week here under the most encouraging auspices. It has scored a remarkable success and richly deserves the popularity it has achieved under the able and liberal management of Al Hayman and Charles Frohman. Matinee tomorrow afternoon.

THE TREMONT.

The last performance of "The Professor's Love Story" will be given next Saturday night, May 6. There will be the usual matinee on Saturday afternoon, which will afford a good opportunity to enjoy this splendid play. On Monday night, May 8, will open at the Tremont "Judith" by Mr. Willard, and the prospect is that it will have a splendid run.

THE BOWDOIN SQUARE.

On Monday next "Peck's Bad Boy" will succeed "The Lost Paradise" at the Bowdoin Square, and will doubtless draw great crowds of visitors. The play is bristling with fun. Ease of access makes the Bowdoin Square theatre a favorite with suburban people on this side of Charles River.

BOSTON MUSEUM.

The 100th presentation of "Shore Acres" at the popular old Museum will take place on May 17. Its success has been phenomenal. People from all over New England have come to Boston to see it, and many in particular have turned out in great numbers to enjoy a play the scenes of which were laid on her rugged and picturesque coast. Everybody talks about "Shore Acres."

THE COLUMBIA.

"The Isle of Champagne" has nearly run its course at the Columbia. It will hold the boards there only two weeks longer, and then the house will close for the season. The play has proved a grand success.

THE GLOBE.

"1492," with most of the old favorites, and a few new faces, was given a splendid reception at the Globe theatre last Monday night. Since the extravaganza was last seen here it has been retouched in several places, new music has been added and special new features have been introduced which make it almost seem a new production. Teresa August has some new German versions of the latest popular melodies, and makes a big hit with them. On Thursday evening, May 11, will take place the grand revival of "Led Astray," with an important cast.

THE PARK.

Last Monday night the 150th performance of "A Temperance Town" was given at the Park to a crowded house, as usual. There is not the least abatement of public interest in this wonderfully attractive play, and the prospect is that the rush to see it at the few remaining performances will be greater than at any time during its run.

AUSTIN'S PALACE THEATRE.

The summer season at Austin's Palace theatre opened this week with the engagement of the Rose Hill English Folly company, now on its sixth annual tour of successes. The Folly company numbers in its ranks a coterie of comely and shapely dancing soirettes and several clever comedians. New scenery and stirring costumes are promised and altogether a splendid production. A great variety show will also be given. Popular concerts every Sunday night will be continued until further notice.

Burlington.

EDITOR OF THE WOBURN JOURNAL: I have been requested to give my impressions of the Lewis Concert at Burlington the other night.

The Lewis Concert at Burlington Thursday night of last week was a most favorable weather, was as successful as it deserved to be. It is very seldom that such an array of talent comes to Burlington or that we have such a musical treat. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis's playing and Miss Woodbury's singing deserve all the compliments they received and more, while Mr. Fisher's violin almost spoke to us in "eloquence of harmony." Miss Ramsdell's reading too added much to the enjoyment of the evening.—Charles E. Henshaw.

The weather was bad for the Lewis concert last week and yet there was a good attendance and the entertainment more than made satisfaction. Principal and Mrs. Lewis are a host themselves, while the assisting artists were the best that money could hire. There is no sort of question but that Mr. E. H. Lewis is the ablest pianist and organist in this part of the country, while Mrs. Lewis is a pianist of thorough culture and remarkably successful as a teacher. It is not often that a concert of such a high character is given anywhere, and the audience, an appreciative one, enjoyed it very much. Mr. T. L. Reed was largely instrumental in making it a financial success, for he put into it a good deal of time and work that told.

Cummingsville.

Burglars made an abortive attempt on the grocery store of Mr. John Cummings, 29, in this village last Tuesday night. When Mr. Cummings went to the store in the morning he discovered that someone had tried to cut out the lock on the outside door, evidently thinking it a common shove bolt, but finding a spring lock instead, abandoned the job. They cut and slashed the door and tried to break it open, but it was too strong for them. Cummings found his whole stock of goods in tact when he went inside in the morning.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON VII, SECOND QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, MAY 14.

Text of the Lesson, Prov. xli. 1-15.—Memory Verses, 10, 11.—Golden Text, Prov. xli. 30.—Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

1. "Whoso loveth instruction loveth knowledge, but he that hateth reproof is foolish." Nearly every verse in this lesson contains a contrast between the righteous and the unrighteous, the wise and the fool. And Scripture is full of such contrasts from the story of Cain and Abel to the end of the book. The wise build upon the rock; the foolish build upon the sand; the wise have lamps well trimmed; the foolish have lamps going out. The Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, but the way of the ungodly shall perish (Math. vii. 24, 26, xxv. 1-13, Ps. i. 6). And as to the brutes, they even put not to shame, and know more than some men (Isa. i. 3).

2. "A good man obtaineth favor of the Lord, but a man of wicked devices will He condemn." The Lord showeth favor to all who make His law to rise on the evil and on the good and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust (Math. v. 45). He offers Himself freely to all, but only those who receive Him shall enjoy Him (John i. 12, 13). Those who receive Him are not condemned already, but to shut Him out from our hearts is the most wicked device that Satan can invent (John iii. 19).

3. "A man shall not be established by wickedness, but the root of the righteous shall not be moved." Wickedness shall not deliver those that are given to it, and though men make a covenant with death and shall stand in their own blood, it shall not stand (Isa. xlviii. 18). The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to naught. He maketh the devices of the people of none effect (Ps. xlviii. 10). But, on the contrary, all who are in the rock Christ Jesus are in a sure and eternal refuge.

4. "A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband, but she that maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones." If this is true literally of wife and husband, how much more of the church and Christ? We are said to be even now married to the Lord who shall bring forth fruit unto God (Rom. vii. 4), and Paul says of the believers at Corinth, "I have espoused you to myself, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ" (II Cor. xi. 2).

5. "The thoughts of the righteous are right, but the counsels of the wicked are deceit." This must mean the thoughts which he thinks of himself, for he is not sufficient of himself to think anything as of himself, but our sufficiency is of God (II Cor. iii. 5). The natural heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked (Jer. xvii. 9), and therefore can be soiled from such a heart cannot be deceit. The contrast between truth and lying.

6. "The words of the wicked are to lie in wait for blood, but the mouth of the upright shall deliver them." The last verse contrasted the thoughts of the righteous and of the wicked. This contrasts their words.

7. "The wicked are overthrown and are not, but the house of the righteous shall stand." Jesus and all His house shall stand. The gates of hell shall not prevail against His church (Math. xvi. 18).

8. "A man shall be commended according to his ways, and he shall be despised whose heart shall be despised." That which Christ, the wisdom of God, does or says or thinks, in and through us, that shall stand and be approved, but apart from Him we can do nothing (John vi. 5, II Tim. ii. 15). All who, having heard of Him, will not submit to Him among the perverse, to whom it is said, "Behold, ye despisers, and wonder and perish" (Acts xiii. 41).

9. "He that is despised and lowly, and is better than he that longeth himself and lacketh bread." If we will humble ourselves to be His servants and be willing to let Him use us as He will, He will in due time exalt us, while those who prefer to honor themselves and despise the bread of life must forever perish.

10. "A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast, but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel." Life is the special gift of God and can only be lost if we do not give it life and breath and all things. He giveth natural life to man and beast. He giveth eternal life to all who receive Him. He that clench his hand shall be satisfied with bread, but he that followeth vain persons is void of understanding.

11. "He that is diligent in his work shall be honored, and he that is slothful shall be despised." Jesus says, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work." He gives to every man his work. He gives to each a pound and says, "Occupy till I come."

12. "The wicked desireth the net of evil men, but the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit." It is written that "they sacrifice unto their net and burn incense unto their snare; they take their portion in fat, and drink their fill of strong drink." In other words, they prosper and grow rich and live only for the present, desiring only the net which will in the end destroy them. They think that suddenly they may be called away, and then where shall their gain be? The righteous gather fruit unto life eternal. Their gain will abide.

13. "The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips, but the just shall come out of trouble." Trouble comes to all good and bad, and oftentimes apparently more to the righteous than to the wicked, but the wicked finally goes into trouble unending, while the righteous are sure to be in due time delivered. They shall forget their misery and remember it as waters that pass away. And not only so, for we have also the comfort of knowing that all present tribulation, patiently borne, is working out for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory (Job xli. 16, II Cor. iv. 17).

14. "A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth, and the recompense of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him." Say ye to the righteous that it shall be well with him, for they shall eat the fruit of their own seed. What if the wicked; it shall be ill with him, for the reward of his hands shall be given him (Isa. lii. 10, 11). Such is the uniform testimony of Scripture. If Christ, the wisdom of God, is accepted, then salvation is ours, and there will be reward in proportion to labor (Rom. ii. 6, 7; I Cor. iii. 8, 14; II Cor. v. 10).

15. "The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise." All benefit for time and eternity comes from receiving and obeying the wisdom of God, but as that is opposed to the wisdom of man and casts down all man's reasonings (II Cor. x. 5, margin) many in their pride and folly prefer their own way and go madly on to their destruction. The wisdom of God is foolishness to the natural man, but the way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise.

16. "All benefit for time and eternity comes from receiving and obeying the wisdom of God, but as that is opposed to the wisdom of man and casts down all man's reasonings (II Cor. x. 5, margin) many in their pride and folly prefer their own way and go madly on to their destruction. 31. "The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise." All benefit for time and eternity comes from receiving and obeying the wisdom of God, but as that is opposed to the wisdom of man and casts down all man's reasonings (II Cor. x. 5, margin) many in their pride and folly prefer their own way and go madly on to their destruction. The wisdom of God is foolishness to the natural man, but the way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise."

Cultivating the Appetite.

Altogether too much time and talk are expended on what we shall eat and what we shall drink. Dainty dishes are all very well in their way, but in many families their preparation seems to be the chief end and aim of existence. No sooner is one meal cleared away, than plans are laid for something new and appetizing for another.

What to eat forms the subject of conversation in little gatherings of all sorts. Of course, cooking schools and the general interest in culinary matters have something to do with this but the subject, like all others, is in very great danger of being overdone. Especially is this the case where there are young and growing children. They gather from all that is going on about them that eating seems to be the principal interest of the family and friends, and it is not difficult to see to what this will lead. The little appetites are pampered, and the minds are filled with fastidious notions about dishes and the way to serve them.

Too much importance cannot be attached to good, plain cooking and the proper preparation of food, but eating should not at any time form the principal subject of conversation. It is not considered good form to talk about one's food while at table; there are topics of conversation much more desirable, and some pains should be taken to introduce some agreeable and interesting subject at the outset of the meal. Do something, do anything to avoid the incessant trade about what to eat and how to prepare it. That sort of thing is well enough in its place, but is by no means a proper subject for general discussion.—The Ledger.

Does the Sun Dance?

Easter Sunday excites the genuine, deep seated reverence of the Christian. It fills the soul with joy and gladness, giving proof to the believer of the divinity of his risen Lord. To the Christian man, wherever he is, on sea or land, within dungeon walls or in the full enjoyment of liberty, Easter comes laden with fond memories, cheerful recollections, healthy, hopeful aspirations.

Who can forget the story learned at mother's knee of the dance of the sun on Easter morn? And how many can remember the excursion to a neighboring hill to verify the tale? Somehow the conditions were never just right—you were just a little late, the sun rose in a mist, or you were negligent at the precise moment when all attention should have been given—and so far as your experience goes the question of the dancing sun is still an unsolved problem. You will think of it this Easter, and the memories it revives will do you good.

Felt Dead.

These words are very familiar to our readers, as not a day passes without the report of the sudden death of some prominent citizen. The explanation is "Heart Disease." Therefore beware if you are one of the following symptoms: Short Breath, Pain in Side, Spontaneous Sweating, Ankle, Asthmatic Breathing, Swollen Feet, Headache, Trembling, Shaking and Hungry Spells, Tenderness in Shoulder or Arm, Fluttering of Heart or more than ordinary palpitation, and also lost. It made no difference who had the lead. Finally the old fellow tried again and won. He had analyzed the play. THOSE CHARGES.

What does President Sullivan of the Common Council expect to make out of his charges against members of the late city administration? What has the present government got to do with the matters of which he complains, anyhow? If errors were committed by former Boards in what way are they to be remedied by those now in power? What possible good can be derived from the agitation of the subject except for its influence on current city affairs?

According to President Sullivan's own showing the parties who, he claims, took illegal fees, sold merchandise to the city, etc., were blameless. Their charges and trades were before the legally constituted authorities and were approved. Why then assail those parties, if there are any such? Why not "go for" the old defunct city governments?

We ask for information, and pause for a reply.

THEY DAREN'T DO IT.

Early last week it was announced with a considerable flourish of trumpets that the World's Fair Management were about to return the $2,500,000 to the United States government and open the Fair on Sundays. Late in the week the Board held a solemn convocation and voted to open the gates to the grounds—and that was all. It was a complete and humiliating exhibition of crawling on the part of the Management. Very few persons in this country care whether the gates of the grounds are opened on Sunday or not; but the public demand was for closed doors of the buildings on the Lord's Day, and the public gained a victory over the greed and vice of Chicago.

The revenue from Sunday visitors to the grounds will not be enough to pay for the grease necessary to keep the gate hinges from rusting out.

THE CHINESE MUST GO.

Last Monday the Supreme Court of the United States decided that the Geary law, so called, which prohibits Chinese emigration into this country and provides for the deportation of those now here, is constitutional, which means that the Chinese must go. It does not however remove the rank injustice of the law, which was enacted at the instance of the worst political elements on the Pacific coast.

Chief Justice Fuller, Justice Fields and Justice Brewer dissented from the opinion of a majority of the Court.

A systematic effort is being made to prevent the consummation of the Russian Extradition Treaty, or to make our government show its hand. Petitions are in circulation addressed to the President, etc. to remove the injunction of secrecy in regard to the terms of the Treaty; to recall it if it is not already ratified; and if it has been ratified to have it terminated at once. There has always been something mysterious and suspicious about that Treaty.

The prospect for the absorption of Hawaii by the United States is anything but encouraging. The Provisional Government is holding its own against all comers; the re-enthronement of the deposed Queen is utterly out of the question; and the sentiment of the island is overwhelmingly in favor of annexation to this country. It has got to come.

What an absurd custom it is to adjourn the Massachusetts Legislature to allow the members to attend a game of baseball. And yet it is the regular thing to do and has become a fixed annual Legislative holiday. In what other State could such a silly custom gain a foothold?

As might have been expected the Boston Journal is opposed to Sunday opening of the World's Fair. It is intensely American and represents the best sentiment of the people not only of New England but of the country at large.

Everybody ought to be on hand "early and often" to see the great street parade of the circus next Wednesday.

Mr. J. Foster Deland is recovering from a severe attack of the grip. He used to think likely of the disease, but he didn't now.

A splendid rain refreshed the earth last Saturday night and gave vegetation a start that it will not get over very soon.

We have been informed by private wire that many radical changes will be made in the June timetable of the Southern Division of the B. & M. Railroad. They will chiefly effect travel in this city.

The liquor dealers think it no fair shake to compel them to pay from $1,500 to $1,800 a year for doing what another class have to pay only one dollar for. It looks a good deal that way, that's a fact.

Mrs. Florence How Hall will lecture before the Woburn Woman's Club this afternoon. Her theme is to be "The English Language as it is spoken in the Best Society." Wonder what the fair lecturer calls "the best society?"

Papers are beginning to teem with advertisements of seashore hotels and boarding houses, but with the World's Fair running full blast it looks as though the summer resorts were going to have rather meagre patronage this season.

The Nilsson Quartet, of which Ella C. Luce of this city is leader, are in much demand for concerts, entertainments, etc., this spring. They had a large number of calls for Memorial Day but could accept only two—Quincy and Charlestown.

Our old friend, Mr. William Kimball of Wilton, N. H., came down last Tuesday to look after his tenements here and put them into spring trim. He reported his health A1, and that he is smart and active we had ocular demonstration.

The Veterans of G. A. R. Posts 33 and 161 have accepted an invitation from Department Chaplain Rev. William Carey Barrows to attend divine services at the First Baptist church last Sunday morning, May 29. They will attend in a body.

Officer Mulken, for many years the efficient school census taker, is busy hunting up and setting down the names of the Woburn children of school age and finds it quite a task. He can do it though in about half the time it would take a green hand.

Mr. Thomas J. Feeney has bought of Mr. Thos. Ryan the Robinson place on Academy Hill and is improving it for a home for his father, himself and the rest of the family. It is a very desirable residence site and will make a pleasant home.

Mr. H. B. Horton is doing a fine business at his greenhouse on Church street. He has a great variety of plants for sale and there is no end to the kinds of flowers his houses contain. His prices for cut flowers, plants, and all other greenhouse products are very reasonable indeed. Give him a trial.

Mr. James Buel, one of our best known and most highly esteemed citizens, was suddenly prostrated by a paralytic shock at noon last Tuesday. Dr. Harlow was hastily summoned and immediately responded. Mr. Buel has not been roused for some time past.

There is to be a Salad Supper in the vestry of the M. E. church next Thursday evening, May 25, which, it is hoped, will be handsomely patronized. The object for which it is to be given is a worthy one. Let everybody turn out and help it along, besides getting a good square meal.

Ex-Ald. Jacob Ham says the Democrats are carrying all before them in the scramble for Federal offices this year and that the Mugwumps are not in it. "If you don't believe it," said he, "just gaze on the 7th Congressional District." And then a merry twinkle went to disport itself in the ex-Ald's eye.

"The best joke of the season" came to light last Tuesday. I won't take many words to tell it. When the Pantasote stench swooped down on the people of the Centre last Monday night it made the Chairman of the Woburn Board of Health so sick that he vomited like a horse. Comment is unnecessary.

That long talked of and impatiently longed for Colonial Party by the Friday Night Club will take place this evening at early candlelight if all the arrangements perfectly in hand and if the Party is not a big success it will not be his fault. It will be a unique affair.

The man who fools with a buzz-saw is not wise. In such cases the instance is not recorded where the buzz-saw didn't come out ahead. Dennis Coakley tried it at John R. Carter's wood-sawing establishment last Friday and the expected happened. He lost one finger outright and had three others badly mutilated.

Mr. Gordon Parker, the druggist, has a cabinet size portrait of himself executed by Mr. Charles H. Taylor which is something up in photography and better than what is done in any other way. The picture has no glaze, closely resembles crayon, is done on a peculiar and somewhat expensive paper, and is a fine piece of work.

Water Registrar Barrett is well pleased with the Board's new quarters in Municipal Building. His room, in the southwest corner, first floor, is neat and commodious. Mrs. Helen C. Hanson and her two sons intend to take up their summer residence at the old homestead in Uxbridge with her mother in the course of a fortnight or so. The Boston papers of Monday evening announced the departure for the World's Fair from that city on that day per what is known as the Fire Insurance Union Pullman train of Mrs. Maria R. Bickford, Miss Gertrude M. Bickford, Mr. W. L. Clewley, Mrs. C. B. Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. H. Porter, Miss Roxanna R. Tidd, all of Woburn. That settles it!

When our Methodist people were returning from the Social Union last Monday evening Mr. C-1 turned to the Pastor and said: "My prayer is that this Pantasote stench may this night penetrate the sleeping room of the President of the Board of Health and give him fits."

The petition had to be made more than last C-1's lips before it was answered to perfection.

Last Saturday a package came to us in which was a bit of paper with these words on it: "To Mr. Hobbs, Editor of Woburn Journal: A breath from our New Hampshire Hills. William Kenworthy." The box was filled with just the loveliest Mayflowers that anybody ever saw or scented, and proved a pleasant surprise to the Journal.

Our old friend Kenworthy, whose home is among the Granite Hills, will please accept our thanks for the beautiful flowers.

It was with a feeling akin to vanity that we read the statement in a recently published report of the Acting Secretary of the New England Tariff Reform League that Mr. Samuel W. Mendum (our own and nearest Sam) was entitled to a generous amount of credit for the prominent part he acted in preparing the literature which that body sent out during the past year with which to beguile and capture gudgeons. In the production of political literature our Samuel is a P. B.

The store in Lyceum Hall lately vacated by Mr. Clough is to be occupied as a piano warehouse, music and jewelry store by the gentleman who has leased it, and will soon throw open its doors for the transaction of business. It is one of the best stores in this city.

In response to a call from the Malden City authorities Officers McDermott, Keen, French, Fountain, Mulken, Murphy and McKenna of the Woburn police will attend and do duty at the grand muster of the Second Massachusetts School Regiment to be held in that city tomorrow.

James Gilday; Financial Secretary, Thomas J. Fox; Recording Secretary, William Kenney. A mass meeting will be held in Hibernian Hall on next Tuesday evening, May 23.

Providence permitting, the JOURNAL will print next week a keen article from the pen of its Law Tennis Reporter which, if we are not in our judgment, will make a rattling among dry bones. Some people in this city who are quite intimately connected with tennis matters will do well to begin to prepare to stand from under about the time next week's JOURNAL is ready to put in an appearance.

Pastor Crawford of the M. E. church has laid out a good programme for his 7 o'clock meeting next Sunday evening. It will be in the shape of a temperance lecture with "Is Woburn a Poor City?" for his theme, and a very interesting and entertaining address by Dr. Crawford may be confidently looked on. Business men, laboring men, members of the Committee of 100 and of the City Government, and citizens generally are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Hon. E. D. Hayden is waiting patiently for proper water and weather conditions for his annual spring fishing visit to Moosehead Lake. He has made a little chain of ponds a few miles east of Moosehead Lake his annual resort for angling and hunting for 30 years past, and there is nothing that he enjoys better than the weeks he spends down there in the forests and among the fishing grounds of that wild region. Mrs. Hayden is often his companion in these sporting trips.

The police continue to make successful raids on places where intoxicating liquors are illegally sold. It is an encouraging sign. Last Saturday night Chief McIntosh and Officer McDermott swooped down on the domiciles of P. F. Kerrigan on Fowle street, and P. Conlon on Buckman street, and got liquors at each place. It is to be hoped that the parties from whom the liquors were obtained will be made to feel the full penalty of the law.

Steve Cutter has plastered the town from end to end to the other with flaming announcements of a great circus which is going to exhibit near Hudson street on next Wednesday, May 24. Steve has a way of putting up "paper" that makes just a common country auction bill look as attractive as an "Old Master" in oil almost, and to watch him stand back and view his work is "as good as a play."

Mr. E. D. Dresser, as President of The Fortnightly intended to make that organization second to none in the State. She is a remarkably bright and progressive lady, who has the executive ability to do so. Winchester Star. That's all right, but Mrs. Dresser will have to rise with the sun every morning in the week to bring the night of the Woburn Public schools, trees of our Woburn Woman's Club in all those attributes and accomplishments which go to make a Woman's Club grand and glorious.

We have expended considerable breath and used up a good deal of shoe leather trying to find out what the latest move of the druggists for licensees means but are no wiser than when we first began. The druggists themselves are unable to give a satisfactory answer to the question "What have pants petitioned again for?" and if they don't know how can it be reasonably expected that outsiders should? Perhaps they were bluffing the reporter, but probably not. They have either had tips from the Aldermen else are going it blind.

An eminent hen fancier of this city says he has doubts about much money having been made in producing domestic eggs for sale this season. Some men tell great stories about their profits, but his opinion is that they have either neglected to keep strict account of the hen expenses or else they lie. The markets have been so glutted with "Woburn eggs" raised down in the Provinces last year and year before that can be sold at low figures and dear at that, that the demand for the genuine homemade article at fair prices has been small.

Our eminent hen fancier is loathed to make up his mind whether to continue to raise eggs for sale or turn his attention entirely to the production of poultry. But at any rate he is in the business for keeps.

The Lewis Music School propose to give their final concert of the season on the evening of May 31 in Music Hall. It is the intention of Principal and Mrs. Lewis to make it the best of the large number which they have successfully given during the existence of the School and to that end pains will be spared. A programme somewhat different from any heretofore presented is contemplated and Principal Lewis believes it will please and interest a cultivated audience. The Lewis Music School have enrolled more new pupils this spring than ever before in the school's history, and the proprietors feel correspondingly encouraged. Evidently this community are learning to appreciate the best there is going in musical education, hence the increasing prosperity of this excellent musical institution.

In appreciation, probably, of the JOURNAL's earnest but unsuccessful advocacy of the scheme to make the Treating Arbuthnot the National Flower friends everywhere (speaking after the manner of men) are generously contributing to the pleasure of said paper by sending in boxes of the beautiful and delicious flowers, for which hearty thanks are returned. The native heather of the Mayflower is Cape Cod, sections of New Hampshire, and the pitch pine plains of York county, Maine, from which latter quarter of the Union came, on Tuesday last, a big box of them, which were evidently a friendly contribution from the esteemed Greenleaf family who reside at No. Berwick, on the borders of said plains. They were gratefully accepted, and thanks are tendered through the JOURNAL's columns for the same.

COMMON COUNCIL.

This Branch held a regular meeting on the evening of May 11, with President Sullivan in the chair. Considerable business was done and some politics indulged in.

John Bradley petitioned for a fire-alarm box at corner of Valley and New Boston streets. Pierce sent in a claim for damages. He says the Chief Engineer set fire to his woods, burning three acres of woodland valued at $300. Thirty-five names were added to the jury list. The order authorizing a loan of $10,000 for various matters provoked much discussion. Mayor Richardson was called in to explain what the money was wanted for, and said for water-closets at Cummings school, facilities to heat the corridors of two schoolhouses, building an addition to Hunsford school and do general repairs on public buildings.

It was opposed by Councilman Little, who said some of the work could wait, and by President Sullivan. Councilman Kennedy said some of the public buildings were going to ruin.

On motion of Councilman Little the order was referred back to the Finance Committee.

An order was passed authorizing the Committee to contract with the Electric Light Company for street lights for one or more years.

Ordered, that the unexpended balance of new Armory and Court House appropriation be placed to the account of public property.

The matter of the $800 appropriated for the observance of Memorial Day was brought up by Councilman Little, who asked why the Committee went out of town for music when there were three bands and a drum corps in the city, and wanted a committee appointed to audit the bills. Councilman Fox did not want to restrict the Post; he thought the G. A. R. was composed of men of good judgment.

It was voted to request the Committee to engage some talent if possible.

President Sullivan's charges were discussed and a committee appointed to investigate.

The grocers of New England have set their faces like flint against the use of clean practice of putting up granulated sugar in bags. Salt in bags is rapidly getting out of favor also. The new popular Crystalline Salt is invariably sold in round cartons, that exclude odors, dust and dampness.

Miss Bancroft's Musicals.
For a rarity Miss Mertona Bancroft had delightful weather for her musicals last Monday evening. In this respect she has heretofore been singularly and unusually fortunate. Her gratitude for clear skies and favoring breezes was therefore unfeigned and lively. The event afforded satisfaction to one of the largest gatherings of ladies and gentlemen that has been seen of late in this city at a pupils' musical. The room was filled with people who were capable of appreciating Miss Bancroft's artistic playing of numerous classical compositions on one of Chickering's best, and the execution of a pleasing programme by something over a dozen of her talented and well-trained pupils. These were Carrie Nelson, Bessie Luce, Lizzie Moreland, Anna May, Evelyn Trull, Daisy Holdridge, Louis Hayes, Bessie Farrey, Bertha Trull, Nellie Moore, Florence Conner. Agnes Clough was ill and unable to attend. The tenor, Miss Bancroft, gave two solos—Pastorale by Tausig, and Polonaise by Paderewski; and appeared in several duets with her scholars. Her approach to the piano was the signal for generous applause. Mrs. Luce favored the audience with several beautiful songs, for which she too was cheered.

A reception was held by teacher and pupils for half an hour in advance of the concert in which the curly-headed Lizzie Moreland, the littlest tot among them all, played a conspicuous part.

The young artists performed their parts admirably and each piece elicited signs of approval from the audience. Rondo Brillante, a solo, was very finely rendered by Nellie Moore, daughter of Mr. Thomas Moore; Bertha and Evelyn Trull showed marked skill in the manipulation of the keys; Florence Conner, a Boston pupil, has rare talents; and little Lizzie Moreland played wonderfully well for a child of her age. Indeed, every member of the class showed fine gifts in the bud, and the effects of careful and intelligent training by Miss Bancroft.

The musicale was pronounced one of the best ever given here.

The Dow Fire Losses Paid.
The Insurance Agency of Messrs. S. B. Goddard & Son of this city and Boston and the Companies which they represent have a wide earned reputation for promptness and fair deal in the settlement of losses by fire on risks which their policies cover. To this reputation and the well known soundness of the Companies represented by them is mainly due the large business which they transact in the two cities.

The leather firm of Stephen Dow & Co., whose factory in this city was recently destroyed by fire together with a large amount of stock, have reason to think well of Goddard & Son's Agency, and do, for the losses on the stock, machinery, and tools, have already been settled to the entire satisfaction of the firm and the money all paid over.

The insurance on the stock, etc., was about $20,000, all carried by the Goddards, but the figures at which the actual loss was placed is not generally known. However the amount settled on has been paid by Dow & Co. are not only satisfied but highly pleased with the despatch of the Agents in doing the business.

About the Tennis Stock.

Passing the house of Woburn's most eminent R. R. and musical authority last Wednesday the Journal man was reminded of the days when he was the Editor of the Local Tennis Stock Corner, and by the way, where is that stock now? Pondering this question, he arrived at the Journal office and put it to the city editor. "A first class thought," said that official, "we haven't had a tennis article this year. Between the women and the City Hall. How several years ago we used to be deluged with rhymes and truck, but now we get nothing. I deputize you to go out and interview the leading Tennisists of this community on this point and also on another very vexed question where light is needed. Who was the author of Illustrated Tennis Newspaper?" Write a hang-up, nifty article thoroughly journalistic in tone."

With these instructions I marched across the Common and naturally first sought Mr. Man Cestors, and was greeted with that forty-five expression which he always carries. "Said he, 'Until the rights of a man to be both buyer and seller are determined by our City Council I'm a bit delicate about answering that first question, my friend, as to who should have the credit for Illustrated Tennis Newspaper. I might say I have heard it ascribed to a dozen different people, but as I have always devoted my time exclusively to my profession I have not the opportunity of investigating such reports. Taking this as a hint I went next to Mr. Norman Ayer, who, it is reported, has for the last five years been running a race with Mr. Cestors for length of limb, tennis fame and political preference, usually a bit behind, but always arriving at the same goal. In answer to my question he said, 'I can't see that my tennis stock ever paid me any dividend. The best payer I have found is Temperance Bonds, but these things work peculiarly; there seemed to be nothing in them to the fellows who had my job before me. Yes, I am in the engraving business, but I can't claim the honor of being the father of illustrated tennis.'"

Bowing myself out I next interviewed Mr. John C. Hecker. "What did Mr. Cestors give you?" said he, "I think the same." I explained to him that interviews could not be had in that way. "Well, if I must tell you, I am waiting for a dividend on my stock before giving a spread to the boys; they will both come at the same time, I think. Yes, I know more about illustrated tennis than I'll tell. I get hold of all the news that's going, but once in a great while I won't repeat it."

Edna Pitt was my next subject and a hard one. "I consider that my tennis stock has paid me roundly. Just how much, a perusal of the City Auditor's accounts for the last year will partially show. I make it a point to know nothing on the other question. My mind is too much wrapped up in dogma and creed."

"Mr. Atten Chesnut, answer these questions, please," said I at my next stopping place. "I never saw any tennis stock," said he, "my manipulations were solely on the lines. Modesty forbids my answering your last question."

Like the next Sunday evening, as I was returning from that day's seventeenth alarm for a brush fire at the Merrimack Chemical Works, I met William, the Baptist, walking across Hammond Square in his usual metropolitan gait. I asked him if he was on his way home from a whist party. "No, sir, I have been gazing at some Baptist property up this way. My dear man, do you know that yonder is a portion of the First Baptist Church Meeting House, built in 1794, and yet in these degenerate days they call this locality Unitarian Corner? O Temporal! O mores!"

"Well, never mind that lamentable fact just now," I interposed. "I want your opinion on more serious matters. Did you ever get any dividend on your tennis stock?" "Did I? Why, my dear man, the stock was a regular nest-egg for me. You see, when I started my Racquet Heteromium I took that stock down to Thompson's hardware store, and hypothesized it for a dozen glass eggs to a fellow who worked there and was then teaching tennis and other lives not a thousand miles from the tennis grounds. It was a great trade-up for me."

"Now, my friend, can you tell me, with equal precision, who is the father of Illustrated Tennis Newspaper?" "Can I? Yes, of course I can. Everybody knows that."

"Well, who is he?" "My dear man, what do you take me for? Do you think I'm yet prepared to have Mr. Cestors publish my epitaph in the next town report? No, sir, I propose to live a few years longer. But you just call around at my house Feb. 29, 1900, and I'll give you the whole story."

The reporter could do no more, and so concluded to wait. He asks the kind reader to do likewise.

(To be continued Feb. 29, 1900.)

Woman's Club.

On the afternoon of May 19, the Club had the pleasure of listening to Mrs. Florence Lowe. Hall speak upon the subject, "The English Language as it is spoken in the Best Society."

The history of our language has been one of continual change. At times, the words of French, German and English, and the mingling of two pronouns in one word. Verbosity and terseness are to be avoided, but at the same time, we should not follow the purist too closely. Sentences should not be overburdened with adjectives.

The study of the Bible is recommended for pure and simple style. Initiators of our English country should not copy their grammatical errors—we have enough of our own to look after. It must be gratifying to people who will use slang to learn that some of the slang phrases of the day are found in early English writings.

Mrs. Hall read Robert Grant's "I'm a Maid from Little Maidland" selections from De Quincey and Lowell; quotations were also given from Arnold, Richardson, Grant White and other purists. The lecture was one of great interest; all who heard it must have been impressed with the beauty of our language, the wealth of its synonyms and our duty to preserve the vernacular in its purity.

The last meeting of the season will be a home talent meeting on Friday, June 2, the subject being "The History of English and American Ballads."

The New Superintendent.

The successor of Mr. J. E. Sewell as Superintendent of the North Woburn Street Railroad is Mr. William L. Brockway of Lynn, and President Breed and Directors Hinkley and Jones think the right man has been found for the right place. They are undoubtedly correct about it, for from an interview which we had with him last Saturday we came to the conclusion that Mr. Brockway carries a business head on his broad shoulders, and understands street railroads.

The new Superintendent had been, when he resigned last spring, 30 years in the employ of the Lynn & Boston Street Railway Company, and had fairly earned an honorable discharge. The first 11 years he served as conductor, and the last 19 as foreman of the Company's extensive stables at Lynn. Last spring he made up his mind to quit the business for good and supposed he had done so, but President Breed and others of the N. W. Company prevailed on him to change his purpose, and he has taken the control of that line.

Mr. Brockway will make his home in No. Woburn, and the people of that village will find him a desirable and worthy addition to their population.

WINCHESTER.

Apple trees are in blossom. We are waiting patiently for those electric cars.

Market gardeners predict a bad year in their business. Prices are certainly starting out badly.

Mr. Salem Wilder must write a book. If he can't knock out Haackel, Spencer and all the rest of them I'm much mistaken.

Rev. F. Hyatt Smith of No. Cambridge, a very able and intellectual preacher, exchanged with Rev. Mr. Newton last Sunday morning.

Strange that the fine corner lot on High and Ridge sts. should go a-begging so long. Here is a great chance for some millionaire to get a place for a summer residence dirt-cheap.

The West Side by no means monopolizes building operations this spring. Houses are just built or building at Washington and Forest, Washington and Westley, on Winchester Park, and at Main and Prospect sts.

Farley Brewer, who will be remembered by many young people here, had the honor of being one of the speakers in a debating contest recently held between his school, the Newton High, and the Watertown High School.

The Commercial Union Telegraph Co., whose lines run through the western part of this town, may be a powerful corporation, but that is no reason why they should be permitted to chop up fruit and shade trees along their line at pleasure. The abutters should stand up for their rights.

Mr. Charles Hall, who died May 16, 1893, was a man much respected and esteemed in the community. He always had a pleasant word for friend and acquaintance. His wife was sister to Mr. Stephen H. Cutter. Much sympathy is felt for her in her sudden and severe affliction.

Another important real estate transaction is reported to be nearly consummated. If you hear of any considerable sale of land about town now-a-days you may be pretty sure that Blaikie is in it somewhere. He's a great and growing land man, is Blaikie—the genial E. K. I mean.

Mr. Frank B. Richardson, Superintendent of the Woburn schools, delivered two able addresses before the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday, one at 3 o'clock to the Juniors, and another at 4 to the Seniors. He is a remarkably interesting speaker and an earnest worker in the Y. M. C. A. cause.

The loam has been removed from the site of the famous McKay shops, and the gravel is now being rapidly excavated. The buildings are to stand on the southern part of that portion of the Land Co.'s property lying between the river and the railroad, near the Chapin school. They are to run east and west, or at right angles with the railroad.

Now come the G. M. friends to show how vain were the hopes expressed in this column a few weeks since. Their name is legion now, and they gaily disport themselves draping nearly every tree in the township with a becoming though scanty garment of beautiful burlap. "It's an ill wind," &c., and the bagging factories are the lucky ones this time.

Contractors Everson and Linehan are rapidly pushing the construction of their respective sections of the Metropolitan Sewer, between the Woburn railroad and Swanton st., through the common yard, and thence from Washington st. near the Woburn line. The chief trouble on these sections is from water, as the line runs mostly through low, wet ground, and very close to the river, crossing it several times. The usual depth here is from 10 to 12 feet, and the diameter about 2-1/2 feet. The decrease both in depth and diameter enables the contractors to push the work much faster than on the lower sections, and the part above the Centre will probably be completed by fall. Tunnelling will be necessary under the Woburn railroad between Main st. and the tannery yard and under the main line near the Highlands station.

Do not forget the concert at the church May 29. It will be a rare opportunity to hear some fine artists. Tickets, 30 cents for adults, 15 cents for children, are now for sale by T. T. Reed and others.

The annual election of the Sunday School was held on Sunday, T. T. Reed was chosen Superintendent; W. W. Skelton, Assistant Superintendent; Miss Nellie L. Sewall, Superintendent of Primary Dept.; Miss Ann Shedd, Superintendent of Home Dept.; Mrs. E. S. Carter, Secretary and Treasurer; Fred M. Hogan, Librarian.

The Ladies Benevolent Society held their annual election last Thursday afternoon in the church parlor. The following officers were chosen: Mrs. Abbie J. Walker, President; Mrs. C. F. Hersey, Vice-President; Mrs. Samuel Sewall, Treasurer; Mrs. Fred Walker, Secretary. After the election a bountiful supper was served by the society.

The grand Organ, Banjo and Mandolin concert to be given in the Congregational church on Monday evening, May 29, bids fair to be one of the very best. The ablest talent has been secured for the instrumentalists, reader and others are well known Boston artists, and a fine entertainment may be depended on.

Next Sunday a Memorial Service will be held at 2:30 p. m. instead of the usual hour. The church will be decorated and the veterans are expected to attend. The Sunday School will be held at 1:30 p. m. In the evening the Primary Department of the Sunday School will give a concert. Comrades Crawford and Barrows of Woburn have been invited to speak at the Memorial services at 2:30 p. m. Abram E. Bond of Bedford will make an address. Posts 33 and 161 of Woburn have been invited.

It's a good thing to keep in the house that Adam's Hot-air Cook Stove. It stops that dry, tickling feeling once experienced in the night and always cures the cough or cold. 10c. and 50c. per bottle.

It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk;" but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.

Scott's Emulsion cures Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Scrofula, and all Anæmic and Wasting Diseases. Prevents wasting in children. Almost as palatable as milk. Get only the genuine. Prepared by Scott & Bowne, Chemists, New York. Sold by all Druggists.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of Sparrow, Heron, 100 Main Street, Charles E. Brown, 100 Main Street, John Cummings, 50, Cummingsville, Samuel E. Wyman, W. A. Hanson, North Woburn, and at G. P. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All Advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

THE LAW IS VIOLATED.

Many observing persons contend that there is at the present time more illegal rumbling in this city than ever before. They doubtless set it too high, and yet are not so very far out of the way. Our judgment, based on observation and reliable statements as to the importation of liquors, is that just about the usual amount is sold now as heretofore, and the reason why less of its effects are daily seen on the streets and in the Court is that greater care is taken to conceal them from public gaze. That the liquor laws are enforced in this city as they should be, and as the public had a right to expect they would be, no honest, intelligent person will claim. It is patent to everyone that those who want rum experience no difficulty in procuring it. The places where it can be bought are numerous and to be found scattered all over town. This is no news to the authorities or to the public at large—it is notorious.

The question naturally comes up, why is this state of things permitted to exist? Last fall the people voted against liquor selling in this city for a year. It is fair to presume that they meant what they said. Why is their verdict allowed to be set aside and the illegal traffic to go on un molested? Some people say it is politics. If so, it is of very poor quality, and will hardly be found on the winning side next December.

STILL AT IT.

As predicted by the JOURNAL, it will take the greater part of a week for the Legislature to finish up its business and dissolve. The House are well through with their duties, and might get away tomorrow, but the Senate lags, and a week more will be consumed before the end comes.

Our Representative in the Legislature, Major H. C. Hall, has been a working member of one of the busiest committees of the House, that of Manufactures. Besides other important matters they have had the great "cheaper gas" question before them nearly the entire session. They have investigated it thoroughly and the result of their labors will have an important bearing on the industry as it relates to both manufacturer and consumer.

—H. S. Adams, Civil Engineer, whose card appears in our business columns, comes pretty close to being a Woburn Boy. He graduated from the W. H. S., Class '83, Three Years Course, with Arthur W. Whitehead, John Duncanson, Alfred H. Whitford, William B. Jones, and several other graduates, and subsequently studied two or three years at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he became thoroughly equipped for the profession of Civil Engineer. After leaving the Institute he was for a some time employed by the city of Cambridge on important engineering work, and of late has had an office in Boston. He ranks high as a C. E.

—Divers opinions prevail among the Woburn G. A. R. in respect to the execution of the charter of the Woburn Post, No. 161, on account of their attitude on the pension question. Some think the pension laws are not just right and that they operate in favor of unworthy persons. Others hold that none too much money is paid out to the Veterans and uphold Ramm's system to the handle. We believe that the Pension List should be regarded as a "Roll of Honor" and that every man's name who honestly and faithfully served in the Union ranks ought to be on it with a pension attached. And in a few years from now ours will be the prevailing sentiment.

—When has the time ever been in the last 15 years that the Central House could serve 160 guests promptly and in the most satisfactory manner on an order for 70 plates without an hour's notice, as Jack McConnell did it last Sunday night? Was asked by a citizen on Monday morning. The gentleman addressed "gave it up." Instead of 70 of them there were 160 of the Sons of Columbia who wanted supper "right straight off." Jack set the entire machinery of the establishment in motion, crowded on steam, turned the larger inside out, and in less than no time the tables were laden with a steaming supper and the guests were enjoying it to their heart's content.

—"Flower Sunday" was observed at St. Charles church last Sabbath by processions, music, and many beautiful exercises, which concluded the hours between 2 and 4 in the afternoon. The pupils of the parochial school, gaily dressed for the occasion, marched to the church under the direction of the teachers, where the exercises were held. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity and many were unable to gain admittance. The auditorium was decorated with garlands of flowers and looked exceedingly pleasing. "The Crowning of the Virgin" with a floral wreath, the principal feature of the occasion, was a beautiful ceremony. The music was fine, and the talks to the children were interesting.

—Mr. Arthur W. Whitehead, the Pleasant street druggist, and Mr. Myron A. Day recently returned from a visit to Virginia where they went with probable nine speculations in their eye. It was Mr. Whitehead's first vacation in 7 years and he enjoyed it highly. The examination of some mining property located in the Blue Ridge necessitated a horseback ride of several scores of miles and as one of them at least never before sat astride of a horse their first essays at equestrianism must have seemed rather ludicrous to a disinterested observer. But as they were in a forest country with no spectators to criticize them, and horsemanship the young gentlemen felt less embarrassed than otherwise might have been the case, while their tenacity resulted in no personal injuries worth mentioning. The trip was so much enjoyed by both that its repetition at no very distant day is probable.

Memorial Day.

The Memorial exercises commenced on Sunday, May 28, when about 100 Veterans, members of Posts 33 and 161, repaired, in uniform, to the First Baptist church and listened to a sermon preached by Department Chaplain, Rev. William Carey Barrows, the pastor, and enjoyed music appropriate to the occasion. Honor was shown them by setting apart the centre pews of the church for their use and the bestowal of kindly personal attentions which, in token of their heroic services to the country in its days and years of sore need, they are entitled to from everybody and at all times. Stronger and stronger grow the reverence and respect for the men who saved the Union in the Great Rebellion as the years roll along and age bends their forms and Death thins their ranks.

In the afternoon about 30 members of Post 161 went to the Burlington church in Comrade Kendall's barge, where interesting exercises were held.

TUESDAY, MAY 30.

The flags floated at half-mast from the numerous flagstays in the city, and at an early hour the streets were densely lined with people who had gathered to obtain a view of the procession and military march and listen to the music of the bands. The street was lined with people who had gathered to obtain a view of the procession and military march and listen to the music of the bands. The street was lined with people who had gathered to obtain a view of the procession and military march and listen to the music of the bands.

For such a purpose the weather was perfect. There was bright sunshine from morning to night and a light south wind modified the temperature to just the right degree for marching with comfort and the enjoyment of the various other exercises.

Before 9 o'clock the procession was in motion. Headed by a Police escort, the Phalanx under command of Capt. Larock, the High School Battalion, Major O'Brien in command, to the inspiring music of the Melrose Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps, with Col. A. Richardson as Marshal of the Day, Post 161 marched from their headquarters to those of Post 33, where the latter were taken under escort, and all proceeded to the cemeteries and decorated the graves of Comrades who have passed over to the other side. In no former year has a better Memorial Day street display been witnessed in this city. At the conclusion of the exercises at the graves the Posts counter-marched to the Common and were dismissed.

At 2 o'clock Post 161, Major Henry C. Hall, Commander, escorted Post 33, Bernard Fletcher, Commander, to the Soldiers Monument on the Common, where Comrade Rev. George A. Crawford, D. D., Chaplain of Post 161, offered up a prayer, and the other usual exercises took place. The Monument presented a beautiful appearance. The decorations were lavish and arranged with fine taste. Seldom has such a display of ferns, palms, ivy and flowers been seen there. Mr. E. F. Hovey was the florist.

From the Monument the Posts proceeded to Lyceum Hall, which was decorated with flags and bunting, where the literary and musical exercises were held.

The exercises were opened by Reading of Orders by Adjutant Hathaway; which was followed by a short, patriotic address by Commander Hall of Post 161; and a beautiful piece by the double quartette. After these came the oration and singing by the children.

The oration by Rev. J. H. Larry of Providence, R. I., was a worthy production well delivered and very acceptable to the large audience present. Of course considerable sameness is looked for in these Memorial Day orations and to those who listen to them year after year they seem just as old and hackneyed sometimes; but that of Rev. Mr. Larry was as free from objection on that score as the best that are heard. The singing was particularly agreeable the double quartet and the 100 children, more or less, performing their parts in the most meritorious manner.

These exercises closed the Memorial ceremonies of the day. Leaving Lyceum Hall the Comrades repaired to their respective Post Headquarters where they held banquets and spent a season in singing, speaking, and social enjoyment. These post-Memorial gatherings are always pleasant and it is the delight of the Veterans to be present at them.

The dinner and symposium at Post 33 was a very enjoyable affair. Commander Bernard Fletcher presided at the banquet provided by Bernard Fletcher, Chaplain A. R. Linscott, Adj. W. P. Warren, Post 33; Q. M. Abbott, Post 75, Stoneham; Capt. Dobb, Lieut. Brown, Principal French, H. B. R.; Capt. H. N. Conn, Military Instructor of H. S. B.; P. Edmund A. Pierce; Post Commander C. A. McDonald and A. P. Barrett, Post 33.

Comrade Barrett made one of the best speeches of the evening. Songs, storytelling, etc. filled the time delightfully. At Post 161 the dinner and speeches were particularly spirited, timely and entertaining. Dr. F. W. Graves, Major H. C. Hall (Commander), Capt. E. F. Wyer, Comrade Fred J. Leslie, Chaplain Crawford, Dept. Chaplain Barrows, and many others made ringing speeches over the walnuts and pipes. It was the best time the boys ever had on Memorial Day.

The opinion was freely expressed that a more satisfactory Memorial Day has never been observed here than that of last Tuesday.

COMMON COUNCIL.
The Board held a meeting on Thursday evening, May 25, with President Sullivan in the Chair.

Council refused to concur with the Board of Aldermen in recommending the order authorizing a loan of $10,000 for repairs on public property.

The Council accepted an invitation from the Grand Army of the Republic to attend the exercises on the afternoon of Memorial Day.

An order from the Board of Aldermen to pay the Smead Warming and Ventilating Company of Boston $221 was adopted.

An order to accept Davis Street as a Public Highway was adopted, but an order to extend Reade Street was defeated.

An order to employ a stenographer to take testimony in the investigation as to certain city officials receiving money from the city for extra services and others for selling goods to the city was adopted in concurrence.

The addition, or amendment, to the investigating Committee order, sent down by the Board of Aldermen, was adopted. This amendment provided that no member of the City Council who had received money from the city should serve on the Committee, and also that President Sullivan should not serve, as he is the accused. The addition of the amendment disqualified Councilmen Quigley and President Sullivan, and on motion of Councilman Carter their places were filled by nomination from the floor, Councilman Kennedy of Ward 1 and Councilman Ellard of Ward 7.

Over this business the Council Room was converted into a hear garden. The scenes enacted were disgraceful. President Sullivan, as mouthpiece for bigger men than he, raved and scolded like a madman. He was flouted at every point. The JOURNAL would like to find out what President Sullivan and his backers are driving at. It looks to us like peasant politics. Nobody takes any stock in Sullivan as a municipal reformer. Nobody believes that the business complained of is "the milk in the can." It is politics, and nothing small beer politics at that.

Woburn always gets up the boss celebration, and when she sends out cards everybody comes to see.

There were many street car excursions in all directions and the cars were filled to the collar-beams on every trip.

Seats were made on purpose for the juvenile and other singers in the Hall and when filled it was a pretty spectacle.

The markets kindly kept open until 10 or later in the forenoon. That gave the people a chance to secure something good for dinner.

The Melrose Fife and Drum Corps acquitted themselves handsomely. Their selections were good and the boys played with spirit and understanding also.

It was pleasant to see so many of the real old Veterans out. They were as gay and lively as boys too. May they enjoy "many returns of the same."

From the piles of peanut shells encountered on the streets Wednesday morning anybody might have known that there had been a holiday on Tuesday.

Some of the lots in the cemeteries were hardly in a presentable shape. Quite a number were unmowed, looked weedy, and were not creditable to their owners.

The Celtic picnic at Baldwin's Grove in the afternoon was a big affair. Many hundreds people attended it, and reports reached the Centre of jolly goings-on.

There was a considerable scattering of the multitude at the close of the afternoon services, and still the streets were well lined with people until 9 o'clock in the evening.

There was no minority finding on the post-prandial speaking. At both Posts 161 and 33 the best has yet been heard. The old fellows were in the spirit of it, and they talked as they fired—straight at the mark—and it was all fine, patriotic, full of fun—good. Both symphonies were highly enjoyed by everybody.

The G. A. R. and everybody else were very warm in their praise of Orator Larry's oration. It was able, eloquent, and pleasing to everybody.

Rev. Mr. Larry is a Vet himself and knows all about it. Seldom has a Memorial Day speaker been the recipient of warmer commendation than he was last Tuesday.

W. H. S. Memorial Exercises.
On Monday, May 29, the Woburn High School held Memorial exercises at the High School which were pleasing and impressive. At a seasonable hour the Battalion, under command of Major O'Brien, preceded by the Drum Corps, escorted the visiting Veterans from their Headquarters to the place of rendezvous, and in passing along the streets made a fine martial appearance. They were accompanied by Drillmaster Capt. Horace N. Conn.

The stage was tastefully decorated with flags and ferns and looked very pretty indeed. The room was well filled. A large majority of patriotic citizens of Woburn were conspicuous by their absence. Those who attended however, expressed themselves as much pleased with the exercises. The speaking and singing was unusually good.

The remarks of Rev. Dr. Crawford were well chosen, and delivered with his customary grace and power. Those of Mr. Frank B. Richardson were also to the point and well received. The following was the

THAT INVESTIGATION AGAIN.

President Sullivan's Committee met again last Tuesday evening to look into the charges which he preferred against certain ex-city officials for receiving extra pay for services rendered outside of their regularly prescribed duties, and doing an alleged merchandizing business with some of the departments. The presence of M. T. Allen, Esq., as Attorney for Sullivan, or the people, gave a tone to the proceedings which has heretofore lacked. D. F. Moreland, Esq., appeared for the Assessors and handled the case in an able manner.

Mr. Allen stated the side of the prosecution with commendable fairness and lucidly pointed out what he regarded as the true intent and meaning of the investigation. On that point we doubt if he and President Sullivan entertain similar views. Mr. Allen said the inquiry was instituted merely and solely to correct some questionable methods in carrying on the city administration and certainly nobody objects to that if past practices really demand reform for future use.

Only the charges against the Assessors were finished on Tuesday evening. Mr. John R. Carter's was heard on Wednesday evening, and Lounsbury's will come on when President Sullivan gets well loaded up for it.

John W. Johnson, Esq., appeared for Edward B. Parkhurst and John R. Carter and like other sensible people takes but little stock in the object of the investigation as claimed by the instigator of it.

But if there is any truth in some rumors that have come to our ears President Sullivan can't get out of the affair and under cover a minute too quick. They are to the effect that the accused parties intend to turn the tables on him and place him under fire. The accused are going for the accuser and investigate him. A clean bill from the Committee will not satisfy them, and it has been decided to probe the matter to the very bottom. This, if carried out according to the rumors afloat, will give the proceedings an entirely different complexion, and just as likely as not within a short time instead of Grammer, Ferguson, Prior, Lounsbury and Carter crying for quarters may be President Sullivan's voice that may be heard pleading for mercy.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

No man in this country is more familiar with the history of the Republican party than Senator John Sherman of Ohio. He has done as much as any one else in making that history, and his entire fairness in stating it no person can truthfully gainsay. The following testimony was given by him at the Ohio Republican State convention last week:

"The Republican party has established a policy which has secured America for Americans. It has secured to labor its highest rewards, not only in wages, but in opportunities and advancement impossible in other countries. It has secured us a sound currency, the highest financial credit, general prosperity and an unexampled growth in wealth, intelligence, invention and development. It has cared for the patriotic soldiers of the war, their widows and orphans, not only by honors and sympathy, but by liberal pensions compared with the empty and fruitless promises of its adversaries. The Republican party has ingrained its policy in the acts and executed them, and now points to the history of its deeds as the best evidence of what it will do in the future, while a Democratic party and a Democratic President cannot agree upon or formulate a single affirmative measure of public policy."

NOT GUILTY.

The great Borden murder case closed at New Bedford on last Tuesday afternoon in a verdict of Not Guilty, as all sensible people expected it would. The jury were out less than an hour—just long enough to give an air of decorum to the close of the famous trial—and there were no signs of disagreement among them on the question of Lizzie Borden's innocence of the murder of her father and step-mother. When the evidence came to be sifted down and weighed there wasn't a particle to sustain the charge against the accused. There was absolutely nothing to base the charges on.

There was tremendous applause when the verdict of Not Guilty was delivered and read by the clerk. Hardly anyone expected a different result, and yet none could restrain their emotions when deliverance came.

It was little otherwise than a detectives' war against a person who 12 men, legally set apart to try her, says was not guilty, and the detectives got badly used up. Everybody will rejoice thereat.

Lawyers Robinson for the defense, and Knowlton for the prosecution, added much to their fame as able lawyers in the conduct of this great trial.

The weather was unfavorable and yet there was a good attendance of parents and friends. The main schoolroom was beautifully decorated, and everything passed off in the best possible manner.

—Woburn lots on sheltering about one-half of the McKay employees. Who knows but what that city may be disappointed?—Winchester Star. Just you wait, neighbor Star. If we are any judge of things Woburn will reap nearly all the benefit from those Works, except the taxes. The big fishes eat the little ones always.

—Belcher, the icecream and confectionary caterer, has all he can possibly do in filling orders for parties, societies and private tables. The products of his modern, first-class manufactory please everybody and therefore every party patronizes him. There is nothing in his line that he cannot furnish with neatness and despatch.

—For selling the largest number of tickets for the testimonial concert of Charles E. Rogers, Masters Alvin E. Bishop was the winner of the violin, the generous gift of Chapman, Reed & Co. He is a brother of Harry S. Bishop of the grocery firm of Bishop & Loomer, and Joseph C. Bishop, shipping clerk at the Woburn Steam Laundry.

—If permitted to do so, we would extend sincere congratulations to Miss Sarah E. Weyer and Mr. Omer M. Brooks on their nuptial union. Both names are found on the JOURNAL's list of good friends, and the father of the bride, when in business, was one of its liberal patrons. The happy couple will please accept the JOURNAL's best wishes for their future prosperity and happiness.

—A note found on the Editorial table last Wednesday afternoon indicated in a familiar chirography imparted the information that another esteemed graduate of the JOURNAL office had just put in an appearance in the person of Mr. George H. Ellison, who we should have been very glad to see. He is an employer of Usher's establishment in Boston and is a No. 1 printer, besides being a first-class young man.

—Mr. Frank P. Johnson of Court st., this city a graduate of the Woburn H. S., Class '89, will graduate from Amherst college next week. His father, mother and sister, Miss Anna Johnson, and Miss Ada Carter of No. 17 Church ave., intend to be present to witness his farewell to college life and enjoy the festivities of the occasion. He has chosen the ministry for a profession, for which he will pursue the regular course of study.

—Judge P. L. Converse thinks some of visiting the World's Fair but if he does less than a week of his time will be devoted to it. Should he finally conclude to go he will first make his way to the National Park where he will spend a week at least tramping over its 3000 square miles of territory and studying the remarkable natural products therein to be found. At the close of his visit to that Wonderland he will return to Chicago, put in about 3 or 4 days in viewing the Exhibition Buildings, individually and en group, the grounds and waters, and then come back home. That the Judge has laid out a sensible programme for a possible Western trip and visit to the Fair can't be successful disputed.

—At a cost of about $3000 a new boiler has been put into the pumping station and fears are expressed that it may have to be taken out for the reason that it fails to do the work required of it. Supt. Colley informed a JOURNAL attaché last Saturday that the boiler had not worked satisfactorily so far and that the prospect was that it would have to be replaced by another at once. Since then we have not heard from the Superintendent.

—Members of St. Charles congregation were solicited by an agent last Sunday to take inmates of some of the Boston Children's Retreats into their families and give them a fortnight's country outing during the hot weather. There are plenty of charitable and well-to-do people among our Catholic population who were glad to comply with the agent's request, and many poor city children will be benefitted by their liberality this summer.

—Woburn people are flocking to the Columbian Fair. Last Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elliott started for the shores of Lake Michigan and will make the fair a good long visit. On the same day Mr. Ralph C. Goddard, his mother, Mrs. Squire B. Goddard, and Miss Bertha Frost, sister of Mrs. Goddard, went on one of the Raymond superb excursion trains for the same destination and will stay there long enough to get a good view of the great exhibition.

—Yesterday morning we received a copy of the Chicago Sunday Herald from Leonard Thompson, Esq., who left here for the fair June 11, and is expected to arrive home today. One of the most interesting articles in the Herald was "Famed Day in History: Bunker Hill recalled at the Fair," which was a glowing account of a reunion of the descendants of a New England ancestry and a fighting over again the scenes of June 17, 1775, on Bunker Hill.

—George W. Norris, Esq., Chairman of the Committee on Revision of By-laws of the Democratic City Committee, has completed the task and reported to the full Committee. He probably produced a better piece of work than any former Committee have been favored with to guide them in holding caucuses and the transaction of other political business. It is not to be presumed that the Kenney-Moreau faction will like the new rules very much, for the style suits them best is the go-as-you-please one.

—Good enough!! Judge Johnson has presented to the Board of Railroad Commissioners a petition praying for the abolition of locomotive whistles. In Woburn which prayer will no doubt be speedily answered, for the Judge says the Railroad Management are entirely agreeable to the change. In the summer when windows are generally open the whistling is especially annoying. This step will embalm the memory of Judge Johnson in the hearts of his countrymen where it will remain fresh and green long after he has laid aside the judicial ermine.

—The weather was bad for a Bunker Hill Day celebration. It rained a little, then drizzled, and then held up, and then repeated ad nauseam. The celebration at Charlestown was far from being a success. The procession did not materialize worth a cent, and the fun was seriously abridged. At home here no account was made of the occasion.

FOR SPEAKER.

Who will be Speaker of the next Massachusetts House of Representatives is a question that is already engaging the attention of some of the thoughtful men of the State beside those who are known to be aspirants for the place.

After his humiliating defeat for Congress in the Seventh District last spring, by an imported preacher-peddler from the quairies of Quincy, it is not probable that Speaker Barrett will enter a contest for even a seat in the next House, therefore the field will be clear for a new man to be Speaker.

We have heard the names of several members of the last House mentioned for the place all of whom are honorable and worthy men, but from the best information attainable at this writing we incline to the opinion that Arthur S. Knell of Westfield is the one man among them all who is pre-eminently fitted to fill that important and responsible position. He was a member of the last House and will undoubtedly be returned to the next.

In his own territory he developed and displayed rare and exceptional qualifications for an accomplished and successful presiding officer. He was permitted to occupy the chair but a single time during the entire session and that in the earlier part (that he did not occupy it again was no fault of his, but to his credit) and he surprised and delighted the House with the ease and dignity, the naturalness with which he performed the delicate duties of Speaker on that occasion and particularly with the excellent order he maintained without effort.

He is a young man, a lawyer by profession and practice, richly endowed with a fund of good sound common sense and the fortunate possessor of a strong, healthy, robust physique of command and dignified presence. His voice is clear and strong and is easily heard by the duldest ear in the most distant part of the hall.

He did not often take the floor during the last session but when he did speak he held the attention of the House and presented his case so clearly and convincingly and in a manner so earnest and vigorous as to merit and receive the commendations of all who heard him. He is kindly and courteous in his intercourse with his associates and easily commands their confidence and respect. He has a slight vein of humor running through his discourse that reminds one of that eminent State of Maine parliamentarian, Thomas B. Reed, indeed, he resembles that distinguished statesman, when at his age, in so many respects we are impatient to see him in some place of responsibility and trust where he may unfold the splendid powers he possesses. The Speaker's chair of the Massachusetts House of Representatives is that place—it is the place for which he is peculiarly fitted and which will fit him for higher places where he may be sure to reward and honor his state.

THEIR FIRST MEETING.

The first regular meeting of the Republican Editorial Association of Massachusetts will be held at the Headquarters of the Republican State Committee at 2A Beacon street, Boston, on Saturday, July 1, 1893, at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

As an auxiliary to the State Committee and also as an independent political body organized for party work the Association fully demonstrated the need of their existence last year, as they had in former campaigns, and active preparations for taking a hand in the battle to be fought this fall which they will inaugurate tomorrow is an encouraging sign for the party. Good Editors who are live Republicans, not afraid of work, compose the Association, and they will be heard from after the vacation days are over.

Fred H. Miller, who the meeting tomorrow will be fully attended by members of the Association, Chairman Winslow of the State Committee will address the meeting.
